about us | profile

Maerzheuser Kommunikation is a strategic communication agency, based in Munich and Berlin. We support brands in practically every communicational challenge – holistic, comprehensive and independent. We act as a Creative Director, source of ideas, coach and sparring partner for our clients. Thus, we combine a wide strategic range of competence and pragmatic expertise on a consultancy basis. Our experienced staff has a proven record of successful interactions and projects, borne from former experiences as decision makers in the media, economy and politics.

Our business activities include the strategically consultation oriented to conversion as well as a wide range in agency services. Besides we offer solutions for communication in crises and special situations or media trainings.

From long-standing experiences we can evaluate the communicative effect of enterprise measures and we can help in the development and implementing of flanking communication measures. Well-known small and medium-sized companies as well as endowments, trade associations and institutions are among our clients.

Beside an excellent network in media, politics and economy as well as a well-grounded economic and political understanding we have detailed background knowledge in the areas of Financial Services, IT & High-tech, Tourism, Health & Life Sciences, Digital Economy, Service companies, Art & Culture as well as in the trade association and non-profit sector.
